

Mind Focux Study Booster Special Discounts Offered For SAT Test in March

New York based Magnum Vita Inc. is offering special discounts on the new Mind Focux mind booster just in time for the March 12th SAT test. The all natural supplement was developed by a certified nutritionist for ADHD, and is now available for use by anyone who needs help studying and taking tests.

Date Released: 03/02/2011

The new Mind Focux mind booster is an all natural supplement that was developed by a certified nutritionist for ADHD, and is now available for anyone who needs help with studies and taking tests.

Mind Focux combines two unique ingredients to support and maintain attention, focus, memory, and concentration. Phenibut - online comments include "ability to improve neurological functions" "Phenibut is mandated standard equipment in a Russian cosmonaut's medkit". 5-HTP - online comments include "5-HTP increases the production of serotonin."

Unlike other "focus" supplements, Mind Focux is sold in new Liquid Liposomal Targeted Delivery System which promotes faster absorption than pills. There are no drug side effects such as found in prescription medications.

To celebrate its successful introduction in the USA, Magnum Vita Inc. has partnered with Vivealive.com to offer two special discounted SAT Study Packs, just in time for the March 12th SAT test.
